Edward R. Worrall, Esq., followed in a neat address.

The Enger found at Seventh and Washington streets yesterday morning has been identified. It was lost in a very singular manuer. A young woman named Martha Sockurn, residing on Eighth street, below Dickerson, had placed a bundle of washed clothes into a cart, and get nto it to ride a few squares, and in getting out the ring on the finger was caught upon some projection at the tail of the care and the finger toru entirely off and left on the street, while she was taken to a neighboring drug store and thence to the Hospital.

-George Bickley, Esq., bell ringer at the State House, was pleasantly surprised last evening by a large company of lastes and geutiemen from the lower section of the city. The party were attired in grotesque costumes. Bickley bade them welcome, and threw wide open the doors of his domical, and spread the cloth and gave them a bandsome set-out. Then the music struck up, sets were formed, and to its strains the merry party whirled the hours away by tripping the light fanishic upon the stone covered hallways. This, we understand, was the first party held in old Independence Hall since 1700, when Robert Morris delighted his friends with just such an entertainment as that of last evening, barring the costumes and music of those more aucient days.

-On Friday night last the fact bry of Caldwell & Campbell, on Naudain street, was broken into and robbed of a number of balmoral skirts and other property. Some of the skirts were obtained at the pawn office of John Coney, on South street, where they had been pledged by Mary Doran. She was arrested on the charge of receiving stelen goods, and had a hearing before Alderman Kerr, when testimony was heard in respect to the robbery, and to the pledging of the stolen goods; also, that they were left with Mrs. Doran to be pledged by two young men, named Hugh Green and Robert Mayo rry. Green was a few weeks ago bound over by Alderman Kerr, to answer the charge of attempted robbery at the grocery store of Mr. John Stockdale. Mary Doran was held to bail yesterday for her appearance at court.

ruary 16, says:— Captain-General Dulce has issued a decree abolishing the freedom of the press and rees ablishing the consorship. Military trials are also restored. General Duice has threatened with s-vere punishment those who contage in rebellion aver the lentency and amnesty extended to them. Many Spaniards, as well as the low classes of the people are opposed to the policy acopied by Dules. The members of the Cuban party are alarmed, and continue to fly from the island in large numbers. Gold is quoted at 8 per cent, premium. The citizens are to raise $25,000,000 for the Government, Five battallors of volunteers are organizing. Representations have been sent to Washington in regard to imprisoned American crizens. Datce has refused to listen to appeals in their behalf by the American Consul, because the latter is considered to have no diplomatic character. The Spaniards threaten to exterminate the disloyalists who commute in revolt after the annesty proclamation. In this respect the soldiers sympathize with the spaniards, and neither the volunteers nor the Government will be able to protect the members of the revolutionary party from violence. The rebel forces in the district of Villa Carva and Cienfaegos number over 5000. They are divided into three parlies-one near Cienfaeros, another near Camaynea, and a third near Mancelxaqua, They have destroyed the rad anys and telegraph lines. Great confusion prevailed at Tribidad. Railroad and telegraphie communication with that city is cut off. Great numbers of young men are leaving the citles and joining the rebellion. An engagement to k place at San Cristoval. The rebels were commanded by Garcia Presto. The Government troops were defeated and compelled to re reat. It is supposed that the object of Presto is to sid the landing at Port Mulattos of an expedition under An action took place at Guanascay, in which twenty Spaniards were wounded. The rebal-held the line of railroad between Sagua an Villa Clara. Twelve persons have been arrested at Cardebas, among them the British Consul. Advices from Santingo to the 5 b instant have been received. Heavy rain; had falled and had produced much siekness among the troops, and miliary operations were supported in coase quence. The arrival of troops from the array of Valmaseda had bified a plot of the Creo'es, who intended to take the city by surprise on the following Saulay. The antagonism between the parties in that city was increasing, and an outbreak was imminent. The police being up, and, have abandoned their daty. The cholora is rather with increased their daty. The endlern is ruging with increased violence. A grand parade of the volunteers will be held on Sonday we k. Alcalde E ov and nome department notaries have been arrested. The Bauco subscribes $150,000 to equip and sustain volunteers. Advice from Nuevitas are to the 11th 18st. An encounter to k place in the vicinity, in which the insurants lost thirty killed and wounded, techning Dr. Argilages. A portion of the volunteers have arrived at Gepara from Holgnin, and the rebels have disapreared from that quarter.

HAVANA, Feb. 16.—The Government authori ties refuse to recognize the United States Cousul except as a commercial agent. Naturalized Americans are being tmpr. soned without having charges oreierred against them, or without a charge for trial. The American Consul will be compelled to leave unless he is supported by his Government. This Government is placing restrictions in the way of Americans who wish to LONDON, Feb. 16. -The formal opening of the new Parliament, postpoued last year in con-e-quence of the re-ignation of Disraeli's ministry, took place this afternoon. The members of the House of Commons were summoned to a tend at the bur of the Chamber of Peers to hear the royal speech. The Queen was not present, but her Majesty's speech was occivered by rural commission, and was read to the assembled houses by the Lord Chanceller. The speech in "The Queen assures the Lords and Commons that the telations of Great Britain with all foreign powers are at present on an excellent tooting. The hostilities which threatened to oreak out in the East, have been prevented by a conference of the steat powers at Paris. The hope is expressed that the regotiations with the United States will place on a firm and durable basis the friendship which should ever exist between England and America, The disturbances in New Zealand are to be regretted, but the Queen is sure that produce and moders ion on the part of the government will prevent a recorrecce of such unhappy events. The estimates which will be said before the House of Commors by the ministers are framed on the lasts of economy, coupled with efficiency, in the administration of the service. The continued suppression of the writ of habeas corpus in Ireland is regarded as unnecessary. The ecclesiastic arrangements for Ireland are to be considered by Parliament," On this subject the Queen cotel des as follows: -"I am ersunded that a careful regard will be had to he interests involved, and that, through the application of principles of equal lustice to the question before them, Parliament will secure the undivided feeling of tan people of reland on the side of loyalty and law, efface the memory of past contention, and therish the sympathics of an affectionate people."

LONDON, Feb. 16 .- Accounts of the state of affairs in Paraguar have been received from both sides, and are, as usual, contradictory. The Brazilians claim that the war is ended, and that their forces now permanently occupy Asuntion, and the inhabitants who, on their approach, by an order of Lopez fled to the interior, are now returning to their homes. It is postively stated that Lopez has abandoned the country and gone to Bolivia. On the other hand, accounts from Paraguayan sources represent that Lopez's army, after the battles at Villeta and Angostura, retired in comparatively good order, and is still capable of making a formidable resistence. The Paraguayans base their hopes of preserving their independence and retrieving their losses on the violent dissensions which they say have broken out among the generals of the allied troops.

Madrin, Feb. 18.—Popular demonstrations have again been made in this city in favor of the freedom of religious wor-hip and also for the abolition of capital punishment. The people have gathered in the streets of Vallacolid and protested against the military conscription. Active preparations are going on for the immediate embarkation of six thousand more troops for Cuba. Don E-calanto will go on with reinforcements, and with instructions from the Provisional Government.
FLORENCE, Feb. 16.—Complete diplomatic relations between Italy and the Republic of Mexico will soon be restored.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Financial Affairs. Washington, Feb. 16.—The Senate Finance Committee have agreed to a bill refunding to the Himois Iron and Bolt Company the sum ob-tained against them for alleged violation of the Internal Revenue law, not to exceed twenty-seven hundred dollars.

The bill which passed the House on Saturday preventing banks from making loans on green-backs as collat-rals, has just passed the Senate without material amendment.

Disposal of Bills. The bill for the removal of political disabilities passed the House by a vote of 130 to 48. Mr. Coltax voung in the affirmative.
Sunner made a strong effort to get the bill granting Mrs. Lincoln a pens on or allowance passed, but it went over after being discussed two hours. two hours.
The bill allowing the Northern Pacific Rull-

Mr. Morton has just announced to the Senate his determination to pr as the Civil Tenure bill, and that timess the bill was passed as it came om the House it would certainly be veted. Morton framed the bill as it came from the No Meetings;

Among the callers on General Grant to day were the Hon, Henry Wilson, of Massachasetts, and Baron Geroft, the Minister of the North German Union. Carl Schorz, Senator elect from Missouri, is Disinterment of the Assassin's Remains. Yeslerday President Johnson directed an order to i-sued from the War Department, to deliver the ren ains of John Wilkes Booth, in-terred at the arsenal, to the undertaker from Baltimere, and the Secretary of War baying issued such an order, the undertaker immedi-diately proceeded to the arsenal, when General Ramsey gave the necessary directions, and the remains were excumed and placed in a wagon, and started to No. 335 F street.

Mr. Weaver came here on Friday last with a letter from Edwin Booth to the President, making a request for the remains. President Johnson, after reading it, requested him to call esterday, when he would give an answer. The ester was a very short one, and stated that b (Mr. Boo h) had every confidence in Mr. Weaver, who would place the body in his private vault until the remains could be transferred to the City Cemetery usar Baltimore, and placed beside those of their tather. He also requested, n belast or his afflicted mother, the return of tue trunk of his brother.

verday, according to promise, Mr. Weaver, with Mr. Harvey, wated on the President, and a proper order for the body was given, and, as e are stated, they proceeded to the accepat where the body was taken up and delivered to them about 5 o'clock. On arriving at the arrenal it was found, norwt betauding every precaut on had been taken to keep the removal eere', that a number of persons who surmised that something was going on, had gathered about the do r, and to avoid the crowd, the remains were taken to the stable of the firm, it ten mas were taken to the scale of the arm, is being the v ry same in which Booth keep has borse, and front ng on the alloy from whence he made has escape after the murder of the President, Here a common deal, unpainted c. film was brought forth, and the remains we e placed in it to be taken to Beltimore.

The box in which the remains were originally interred was much decayed, and on its top was from a parated posrt wib Boota's name, and on taking off the hid the remains were found to be wrapped in two or three grey blankets, and in a fine state of preservation. The can and yest were in a good condition, as also the pantalorus, except that a portion of one leg appeared to have been cut off. The cava-re o ot on his left ie; was in extra good conditi on the right foot, a common brozan, which he procured at Mudo's house, had a slit cut down the front, but was otherwise in a good

In consequence of the want of time, there was but little examination of the remains made at the stable, but it was observed that the head was not connected with the body, and that one or two of the ver chim as also the small bours of the leg, were missing. It was also observed that the hair of the deceased was in a good state of preservation, the long curly locks looking as if they had been subjected to the barber's hands. Mr. Weaver left with the remains in the half-past seven o'clock train last evening, and took them immediately to his establish-went on W. Fayette street, and to-day will place tem in one of his patent caskets, covered with slo b and silver mounted, and place them in his vault, at Greenmount, to await the arrival of his relatives, - Inquirer's Wash, Correspondence.

"THE SPRATTS AT SARATOGA "-Mr. De Cordova related in his own in mitable way the personal history of the Spratt family, or that portion of it which related to their visit to saratora Spriegs and his own imbroalio is the metter, at the Opera House, last evening, before a go divized audience. It is really one of the very best of Mr. De Cordova's literary efforts, and as a satire on the institutionable follies of the veritable coup decat. The speaker's manner of delivery has improved since we last had the pleasure of seeing him-or else be let himself out in a most unusual nanner last eveningand his claims as a first-cla-s comedian cannot be questioned. His illustrations of that modern epidemic, the "Grecian Bend," and his account of the voices of the night which came through the slats of his blind-door at "the Union," fairly couvabed the house with laughter. De Cor dova's success as a lecturer is rapidly on the increase, baring now more invitations pouring to upon him than be can possibly fill, and he is richly deserving of it. So far as instruction goes, he will compare favorably with nine-terries of the peripatetics of the day, while as a promoter of uproarious mirth and good diges-tion, he is without a rival - Newark Advertiser,
